

GIRL SCOUTS BEGIN FINANCIAL DRIVE

DISCUSS MERGER OF BRIGHTWOOD BODIES

The Girl Scouts' drive to obtain 10,000 sustaining members within a week was launched this morning.

Mrs. Theodore Stark Wilkinson was the first canvasser to make a report to officials at Scout headquarters, room 215 Woodward Building. Mrs. Wilkinson was leaving the city but she was anxious to lend some aid in the drive before departing, so she started canvassing before the drive officially began.

The drive is unique in that there is no street corner solicitation at all. The girls themselves are forbidden by their Scout constitution to solicit funds; so their work is limited to visiting their relatives and friends, interesting them in the movement and obtaining their promise to subscribe. The names of persons willing to subscribe are handed to Scout captains and lieutenants and they—grown women—actually obtain the subscription. Under this arrangement the girls do not solicit a cent and do not handle a penny of the money contributed.

Many prominent women are aiding in the campaign. Among the women who are receiving contributions at the various headquarters today are Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman, Mrs. C. N. Chipman, Mrs. Carl Graft, Mrs. W. B. Pain, and Mrs. J. Thomas.

To become a sustaining member of the Girl Scouts for a year a person must contribute $1 or more to the fund. Seventy-five per cent of the net proceeds of the campaign will be used by the local Scouts and the remaining 25 per cent will be used by the national organization. Every one who contributes will receive a little yellow button bearing the face of a pretty Girl Scout.

A unique window display illustrating the varied activities of the Girl Scouts has been arranged by the Hecht Company at its store on Seventh street between E and F streets northwest. The various merit badges, with interesting pictures showing the feats that must be performed to win them, are included in the display.

EX-KIASERIN HAS QUIET BIRTHDAY

AMERSON, Oct. 25.—The birthday of the former German Emperor Augustus Victoria was celebrated quietly at the Benthick Castle.

The chief guest for the occasion was former Prince August William, fourth son of the Emperor and Empress, who came for a visit of a few days to his parents.

STORING UP ENERGY FOR THE WINTER

Begin Now Taking Father John's Medicine to Build Flesh and Strength

No better time than the present can be found in which to build the flesh and strength, the vital energy needed for the coming winter.

For this purpose no better tonic-food body-builder can be used than Father John's Medicine, which is of superior food value and guaranteed purity.

The rich body-building, strength-giving elements of Father John's Medicine are combined in a form most easily taken up by those who are weak and run-down. That is why many people gain flesh and weight steadily while taking this old-fashioned family medicine. Father John's Medicine is safe to give to every member of the family because it is guaranteed free from alcohol and dangerous, narcotic drugs in any form. Begin taking it today.

Determination + Energy = Success

Every young man or woman determines as he or she starts out in life to become a success.

Those who add Energy to their Determination are as a rule a success.

But the person who adds Saving to his Determination and Energy is sure to be a success.

When all the motive power to run all the world's machinery comes from those twelve mile shafts that will tap and harness the vast energy in the earth's interior—

And nobody will have to work at all, except such little odd jobs as cannot be performed by machinery—

And the doctors can shoot you full of youthfulness glands which will insure perpetual youth—

And all the world is dry territory, without any drinking or heating up of wives or other rough stuff—O, won't it be a wonderful world to live in!

U.S. RENTS BOOSTED 30 PCT. IN 5 YEARS

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—With reference to the increased cost of shelter in this country, as between July, 1914, and July, 1919, the National Industrial Conference Board in its recent research report states that, as a broad population distribution into account, average, the rent increase, taking would be somewhat below 30 percent. Reports from 155 cities of varying sizes are the foundations of the report. The largest single group of cities is the one in which rent increases for the entire five-year period fall between 21 per cent and 30 per cent. In 28 cities the increase for the five-year period falls between 31 per cent and 40 per cent and in eleven cities between 41 per cent and 50 per cent. Local conditions play a large part in the changes in the cost of shelter, percentages varying not only in different cities but in different districts and classes of houses in the same city.

ROCKVILLE NEWS

ROCKVILLE, Md., Oct. 25.—Father against son and daughter, with the latter two charged with assaulting their parents, was the scene enacted in the police court here yesterday.

The defendants in the case were David H. Deliber and sister, Miss Florence Deliber, of Chevy Chase, and the complainant was their father, D. P. Deliber, also of Chevy Chase.

The father charged his children with attacking him in their home several weeks ago and with striking and scratching him. The testimony of the children, however, was to the effect that the father attacked his son without provocation and that the sister went to her brother's assistance. Judge W. Frank Galtier dismissed the case.

Immediately following the trial, young Deliber swore out a peace warrant against his father, declaring that he was afraid he would do him bodily harm. Judge Galtier fixed bond at $300 and being unable to find a bondsman the father was committed to jail.

P. E. Kleindienst, of Washington, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Stanley Ginnell on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. According to Deputy Ginnell, the car Kleindienst was operating collided with a machine belonging to George E. Hamilton, on the Washington-Rockville pike, and did damage to the latter to the amount of $100. Kleindienst was taken to the Police Court and released him on bond for his appearance for trial next Monday.

HIDDEN SUGAR TO END N. Y. SHORTAGE

Two Million Pounds, Located By Food Administrator, Will Be Seized.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Temporary relief of the sugar shortage here was promised today, with announcement that Federal Food Administrator Arthur William Clegg located a hidden supply of 2,000,000 pounds.

The sugar, enough to supply the city for a week, will probably be taken over by the Federal officials and placed on the market, it was said.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 10c and 25c.

TO DISCARD RISQUE PARTS IN REVUES

Counter Reaction Sets in on French Stage—Saner Note Seen.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—A counter reaction is setting in on the French stage and by the time the flood of American tourists begins arriving next year the concert hall productions may be quite as lacking in risque features as a modern American burlesque show.

Shortly after the armistice was signed Paris began to "open up." The highbrows said it was the inevitable reaction against the period of asceticism that accompanied three years of war. The fair artists of the Folies Bergere, Margit's, the Concert Mayol, the Casino de Paris and the Bataclan began doffing clothes in a perfectly shocking manner and the dance halls saw the superlative of décolleté.

It was generally felt that the climax had been reached when Mme. Spinnelli, the favorite dancer of the capital, appeared in a new revue clad from her waist to her knees and lacking even the traditional beads of the Hawaiian dancer. But the Folies came back with a gorgeous finale in which a blonde actress achieved even a more sensational display of cuticle, the great embarrassment of a party of American Red Crosses and Y. M. C. A. girl workers, who had found themselves in third row seats.

All this, or most of it, will have passed out before next summer, say the critics. This should not be taken to mean that the American clergy will ever endorse the Paris musical spectacles, but there is to be a saner note on the stage next year, more real music to replace American "jaz," more cello dancing, and more clothes.

BRITISH CABINET IS UNLIKELY TO RESIGN

House of Commons May Act Monday to Reconsider Adverse Vote.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—It is not expected that the British Cabinet will resign as the result of the adverse vote in the house of commons. This is the opinion, at least, of political experts and editorial writers generally.

The vote is generally described as an assertion of the independence of the house of commons and a determination to resist the supremacy of the cabinet during the war. More than 100 supporters of the coalition, among whom Sir Edward Carson was conspicuous, voted against the government. These represented the intense antipathy feeling prevailing among the conservative coalition.

It is believed in some quarters that the government on Monday will ask the house to reconsider the vote, and in view of certain circumstances the house may comply. These circumstances concern the convention entered into between Great Britain and France in 1913, in which it was agreed that French pilots might bring French ships into certain English ports and that English pilots should be granted a reciprocal privilege in French ports.

TAKE UP DEALING AT EPISCOPAL MEETING

Commission Appointed to Study Question—Momentous Session Is Ended.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 25.—One of the most momentous sessions of sessions of the Protestant Episcopal Church ended yesterday when the triennial general convention adjourned to meet in 1922 at Portland, Ore.

In the closing session of the convention the church was called upon through the pastoral letter to square its face its duty in the new era and the problems of the period of reconstruction.

The convention just closed made church history, leading men of the Episcopal Church declare, and adopted legislation destined to place the communion on a broadened plane in the eyes of the entire Christian world. In its constitution the church adopted the following four general points:

First, the almost complete reorganization of the church through the creation of an executive council and the granting of increased powers to provincial synods.

Second, the broadening of the church's outlook on social matters, industrial questions and international affairs.

Third, the general approval of the movement toward church unity by amending the church constitution to make possible the proposed concordat with the Congregational Church whereby ministers of that church may be ordained in the Episcopal faith, these amendments also making possible similar agreements with other denominations.

Fourth, the broadening of the worship of the church in revision of the book of common prayer and its enrichment.

Greatest interest of church people and convention delegates today was shown in the selection by the house of bishops of Bishop Thomas F. Gallor, of Tennessee, as chairman of a new executive council, which will handle the business of the church after January 1, next.

Becomes Executive Head.

Bishop Gallor will hold office until the next convention. He becomes, by virtue of the office, executive head of the church. Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, of Missouri, remaining its ecclesiastical head as presiding bishop, will combine. Election of a suffragan bishop to the missionary district of Tokyo was left to the district meeting of the house of bishops.

The new council which on January 1 next becomes the ruling body of the church and under which all church affairs are to be centralized, is made up as follows:

Bishops William C. Brown, of Virginia; William Lawrence, of Massachusetts; Edwin S. Lines, of the diocese of Newark, N. J.; and Theodore T. Reed, coadjutor bishop of southern Ohio; Dr. James E. Freeman, Minneapolis; Dr. Alexander Mann, Boston; Dr. William H. Milton, Wilmington, N. C.; Dr. Ernest M. Sturges, New York; and the following eight laymen: Stephen M. Baker, New York; John Stewart Bryan, Richmond, Va.; Samuel Mather, Cleveland; Burton Mansfield, New Haven, Conn.; Frederick C. Moorehouse, Milwaukee; Arthur E. Newbold, Philadelphia; Harter S. J. Rochester, N. Y.; and H. C. Wycoff, of Watonsville, Cal.

Believing that the ministry of healing is a mission of the church and that its inclusion in the work of the church will aid to help hold the present membership, the convention yesterday appointed a commission to inquire into the question and report at the 1922 meeting.

The house of bishops yesterday referred to the council an investigation of work among negroes and a suggestion that a conference of racial representatives be held in each large city to consider greater social justice.

The closing service of the convention was held in St. Paul's Cathedral, the bishops enrobed, clerical and lay delegates attending. Presiding Bishop Tuttle pronounced the benediction.

NC-3 COMMANDER TELLS OF CROSS-SEA FAILURE

Comdr. Holden C. Richardson, a member of the NC-3 crew, one of the trio of navy seaplanes that started across the Atlantic, thrilled the members of the Cosmos Club by his speech at the meeting of that organization last night.

He outlined the preparation for and the start of the voyage, and concluded by saying that "after" covering 1,200 miles in less than fifteen hours, we discovered that one of the engines and one of the wings had dropped eight inches, and that the hull was leaking. Then we knew we were out of the race."

LIVER AND STOMACH

IT'S ALL IN THE WAY YOU WEAR IT

LONDON, Oct. 25.—In the shy and secluded mansions up Bond street way, where the mysteries of Paris are interpreted for the beautification of "Lady This-and-That" and the pauperization of her swain, a period of tense and silent training is ended, for the fall style shows are now open.

Maxie Smith and Sadie Jones are now Emma O'Flynn swim before the entranced gaze of "Ladies This-and-So," poems, lyrics, dreams of grace.

Maxie and Sadie and Emma are now Pam and Maurisette and Corisande. With the change of names they shed their old home-made names, but the new and high-toned names were acquired with less pain than the rhythmic glide without which no Paris billroom is complete.

"There is nothing more difficult than a graceful walk," expellied a dove gray lady in a dove gray display room of a dove gray old mansion that was once the home of the morganatic wife of an English King.

"We teach our maid girls to walk in a beautiful manner. It's a fine art, and very difficult."

The draperies of a little stage parted and a dream in white satin paused a moment, glided down two or three steps and moved gracefully about Mercia it was this time, specialist in grace.

"We train our girls by making them walk balancing a book on their heads," the dove-gray lady continues. "A beautiful gown must be worn by a beautiful girl, and the girl must carry herself in a beautiful way."

Of such is art built, at some $250 the garment, in the beautifully lighted showrooms where society is now viewing its winter plumage. Marie and Sadie and Emma have been training for weeks.

They are displaying the gowns, incidentally, but it's the natural beauty of the girls and the newly-acquired grace of their carriage that will send many an expensive package to the homes of the great. In those homes, no doubt, there will be no balancing a book, but only an abiding wonder as to why the Parisian never looks half so smart on the ballroom floor as it did in the dove-gray showroom.

How Science Knows There Is Life on Other Worlds

Whether the world upon which we live is the only one on which there is life—as we know life, or whether throughout space their spin other worlds on which dwell plants and living, mobile creatures, has long been a bitterly contested question.

It has been answered definitely and finally. Science now believes, in the affirmative. An interesting full page article.

Would You Trust a Dog To Pick Out Your Husband?
